

Fruit Adventure

Mr. Apple and Mrs. Banana were looking for an adventure. They decided to explore the top of the refrigerator.

Mrs. Banana had no problem climbing the refrigerator. But Mr. Apple kept sliding down the side and landing on the ground.

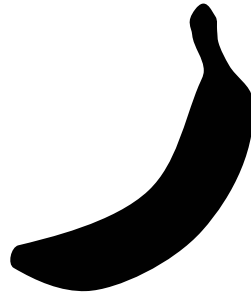

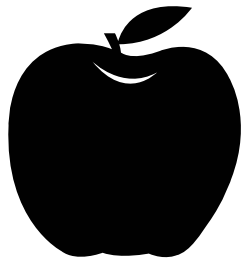

Mrs. Banana knew just what to do. She climbed down next to Mr. Apple. Mr. Apple jumped and Mrs. Banana catapulted him to the top of the refrigerator.

Mrs. Banana climbed up the refrigerator next to Mr. Apple. "That was quite an adventure," she said. Mr. Apple said, "I agree. I could not have done it without you!"

Fruit Adventure

The Race

One day Horse and Beaver decided to have a race.

"On your mark! Get set! Go!" And the animals were off! Horse was galloping far ahead and almost near the finish line. Beaver was just crossing the start line.

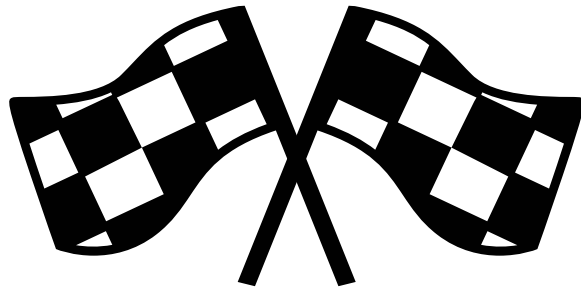

Horse looked back at Beaver. Horse could easily win the race, but he felt bad for his friend. Horse had an idea!

Horse ran back to Beaver. "Hop on!" he neighed. Beaver jumped on Horse's back and they ran to the finish line and won the race together.

The Race

Watch Out Piggy!

Piggy lives on a window in a boy's room. Piggy is a bank and he is full of money!

Piggy likes his spot on the window. Piggy's favorite thing is to watch the boys playing baseball. He loves the sound of bats swinging and kids laughing.

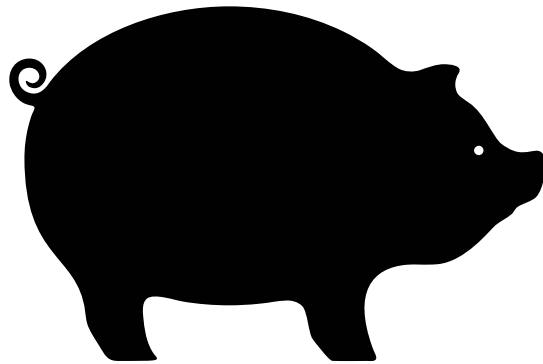

One day Piggy was watching the kids play baseball. One of the boys hit the ball very high and very far. It was going straight towards Piggy. The ball hit Piggy and cracked him open. All the money came spilling out.

The boys felt bad. They put a band-aid on Piggy to fix him up. They put all his money back in. And they put Piggy back on the window. Piggy was happy and ready to watch some more baseball.

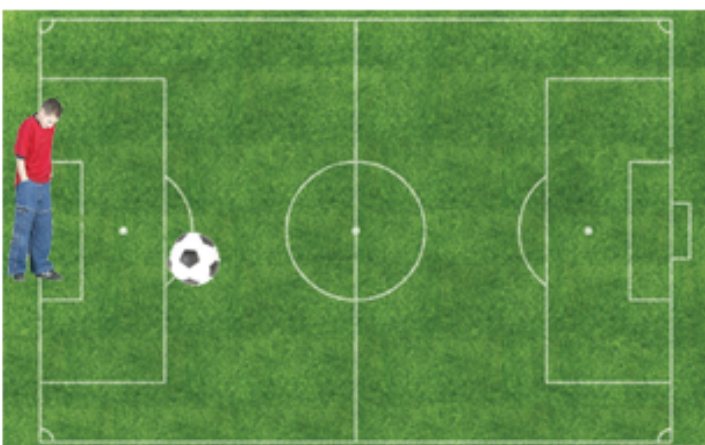

Watch Out Piggy!

Soccer Goal

Michael loves to play soccer. One day he decided to try and kick a goal from one end of the field to the other.

Michael kicked the ball as hard as he could. The ball did not even make it to the middle of the field. He tried again and again, but he could not do it.

Michael was frustrated.
He was about to give up.

Then two of Michael's friends showed up! They passed the ball to each other and then to Michael. Michael kicked the ball and he scored a goal!

Soccer Goal

